

Milton's poem Paradise Lost has influenced many films, comics and books over the years and Alex Proyas has been trying to get a direct adaptation off the ground at Legendary Pictures for some time now. Well, now it's on it's way and we have our first glimpse of Bradley Cooper as the man who will bring Lucifer to life on the big screen.. Artwork revealed from Paradise Lost by director Alex Proyas and starring Bradley Cooper. Lucifer and Michael, God's greatest archangels, share the bond of extraordinary friendship until God produces his greatest creation: Man. Unable to remain subservient to God if it means bowing down to humanity, Lucifer begins his dark descent and is cast out - only to plot his revenge. By TwitterButtons.com
