

Judging by the first batch of instant reactions from the U.S. press screening of Doctor Strange, it sure sounds like Marvel Studios has done it again as the Scott Derrickson-directed film is receiving near universal acclaim from all sides, with the psychedelic visuals receiving special mention from practically every attendee. As for the cast, Benedict Cumberbatch is getting a lot of love for his portrayal of the Sorcerer Supreme, with some critics even favorably likening his performance as Strange to Robert Downey Jr. as Tony Stark. Tilda Swinton, who plays The Ancient One, also gets a couple shoutouts. DOCTOR STRANGE is unlike any previous Marvel movie and that's why I love Marvel. They keep pushing boundaries and make it look easy. — Steven Weintraub (@colliderfrosty) October 20, 2016 Visuals in DOCTOR STRANGE are fantastic. Actually worth seeing in 3D. Cumberbatch is great as the Sorcerer Supreme. — Steven Weintraub (@colliderfrosty) October 20, 2016 DOCTOR STRANGE has two after the credits scenes like most Marvel movies. They both set up future
