

The first trailer for Marvel's other upcoming animated feature film -- Iron Man & Hulk: Heroes United -- has been released. The film is set to pit the two heroes against villains such as Zzzax, Abomination and much more. When the film was first announced, Jeph Loeb said "The challenge was to pick up the banter between the two of them. Certainly, Adrian Pasdar's performance is inspired by what Robert Downey Jr. does, and Mark laid down such an incredible path for us to be able to follow." It seems that the relationship between Tony Stark and Bruce Banner in Marvel's The Avengers is something that may be replicated in this film. Shellhead and the Jade Giant team-up against Zzzax, Abomination, Wendigos and more in an all-new adventure premiering on Blu-ray, DVD and Digital April 23, 2013! For the latest on "Marvel's Iron Man & Hulk: Heroes United," keep your eyes peeled

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/TheAlexLynch/news/?a=68660>