

Underworld fans should be happy to see Kate Beckinsale return as fan favorite "Selene" in this new trailer for the upcoming film Underworld:Awakening. Whether or not you're a fan of the films, you almost have to admit, it's nice to see Beckinsale back in costume. Brief synopsis... "After being held in a coma-like state for fifteen years, vampire Selene (Kate Beckinsale) learns that she has a fourteen-year-old vampire/Lycan hybrid daughter, Nissa, and when she finds her they must stop BioCom from creating super Lycans that will kill them all." Directed by Måns Mårlind and Björn Stein, Underworld:Awakening starring Kate Beckinsale, Charles Dance, Michael Ealy, India Eisley and Stephen Rea is slated for release January 20, 2012. Hawksblueyes: I know there are many people out there who are not fond of these films but I have to say I've enjoyed every one of them and I'm looking forward to seeing this one. By TwitterButtons.com

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/GulfCoastAvengers/news/?a=44632&t=First_Trailer_Hits_For_iUnderworldAwakeningi