

The production team for Marvel's The Punisher has been hard at work over the past few weeks making Netflix's next great series and last night, a couple new photos from the secretive set surfaced online featuring Jon Bernthal (The Accountant) sporting a very fresh new buzzcut. The new cut should bring back fond memories of the look he wore in his first few appearances on the second season of Marvel's Daredevil and may suggest a time lapse between these snaps and the previous batch of set photos. The series will see Bernthal reprise his role as Frank Castle from Daredevil and thrust him in a brand new adventure. He'll be joined by Ben Barnes (Westworld) as his former best friend Billy Russo a.k.a. Jigsaw, who now runs a highly successful private military corporation called Anvil, Ebon Moss-Bachrach (Girls) as Micro, a former NSA analyst that holds some powerful secrets, and Amber Rose Revah (Emerald City) as Dinah Madani, a Homeland Security agent, who finds herself perplexed with the Punisher's arrival.
