

Variety reports that Fred Ward (recently seen in last year's comedy 30 Minutes Or Less) has been cast in Universal Pictures' action thriller 2 Guns, an adaptation of Boom! Studios graphic novel written by Steven Grant. All that is known about Ward's role in the movie, which stars Mark Wahlberg and Denzel Washington as a Navy SEAL and a DEA agent, is that he will play "a top-ranking U.S. Navy admiral." Paula Patton, James Marsden, Bill Paxton and Edward James Olmos make up the rest of the film's cast. Baltasar Kormakur (who previously directed Wahlberg in Contraband) will helm the adaptation, which was written by Blake Masters. The film is expected to hit theaters sometime next year. Below is a plot summary of the 2 Guns graphic novel: A pulp story about cops and thieves and the men that are something in between. Trench has targeted a local bank to rob, and asked
