

Yes! That's all I can say regarding this news. Even though many thought this would be the final season of Fringe, things have gone in different direction once again. The show has been renewed for one final season (13 episodes). Check out the press release: FOX BOOKS "FRINGE" FOR A FIFTH AND FINAL CHAPTER 13 Episodes Ordered for 2012-2013 Season FOX has picked up FRINGE for a fifth and final 13-episode season, it was announced today by Kevin Reilly, President of Entertainment, Fox Broadcasting Company. "FRINGE is a remarkably creative series that has set the bar as one of television's most imaginative dramas. Bringing it back for a final 13 allows us to provide the climactic conclusion that its passionate and loyal fans deserve," said Reilly "The amazing work the producers, writers and the incredibly talented cast and crew have delivered the last four seasons has literally been out of this world. Although the end

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/Wolvie09/news/?a=58674>