

Following her debut in Batman V Superman: Dawn of Justice, Gal Gadot will reprise the role of Diana for Patty Jenkins' solo Wonder Woman movie next year. Fans have already seen the action-packed trailer and may think they have a pretty good idea of what to expect, but according to Gadot, there's going to be much more to the film than exciting battle scenes. We Got This Covered chatted to the actress about her new movie Keeping Up with the Joneses, but couldn't resist slipping a Wonder Woman question in there. They asked Gadot how the tone of the picture compares to previous DCEU entries - in particular Batman V Superman - and her response suggested that this particular superhero flick is going to be more about love than war:

“Wonder Woman is different. On this film, we went back to Diana’s backstory – to her history, her coming of age. How did Diana become Wonder Woman? But with this character, what

Read more: https://www.comicbookmovie.com/wonder_woman/gal-gadot-explains-why-she-feels-wonder-woman-will-be-different-to-a145893