

EW report that season two of HBO's fantasy series will be expanding it's production to Croatia and Iceland. Filming simultaneously in three different Countries is very rare, especially for a show so reliant on CG environments. Apparently scenes shot in Croatia will focus on Daenerys Targarean (Emilia Clarke) as she travels across a barren wasteland with her newly hatched dragons in an attempt to raise a new army. While Iceland will double for the frozen lands beyond the wall where Jon Snow(Kit Harington) and his Nightswatch brothers begin the hunt for the mysterious White Walkers. By TwitterButtons.com
