

Over at Makinggameofthrones.com Cat Taylor has set up a production diary giving daily updates on the progress of the second season of the excellent series which is currently in the final stages of shooting in various locations. In this latest one she gets a bit spolerific as she gives us details on a scene involving the violent death of one of the major characters. Now said character isn't revealed in the actual description but based on the details I can hazzard an educated guess as to who she is talking about. So if you don't want to know don't read on after the blockquote.. It's early evening, and we are just getting set up for a night of action-packed filming. Later, a well-known character will die. The stunt guys are practicing killing each other, while the camera department lays track for the dolly. A small group is gathered around a body lying on
