

Well, I have just watched the season 1 finale "Fire And Blood" and not only did it live up to my expectations, it surpassed them. With that last jaw dropping reveal and Dragon's scream I believe HBO have delivered(at least for one season) some of the best tv there has ever been, in any genre. Now we have this short, unrevealing teaser for the second season.. Spring 2012 seems like an eon away. But the show resumes shooting in Northern Ireland at the end of next month. I may just have to get up there with the ol camera. What did you think of the finale?
