

In a recent interview with IGN.com about his current projects with The Flash, Aquaman and Green Lantern, comic writer Geoff Johns talks a bit about the upcoming Green Lantern film, specifically Mark Strong's portrayal as Sinestro, and about how the Free Comic Book Day program is being designed to introduce people to the world of Green Lantern before the movie hits theaters. IGN: That's fitting, especially since you were at WonderCon for the debut of the new Green Lantern footage – how has the reaction been? Johns: Crazy! You saw it right? IGN: I did, I loved it. Johns: It's your reaction. It's hard not to like seeing Mark Strong as Sinestro. IGN: Yeah, he's very commanding. Johns: He is, and you know, I think he embodies the best of what Sinestro has been for the last few years. But yeah, the reaction was great. Free Comic Book Day is designed to

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/BatFreak/news/?a=36264&t=Geoff Johns Talks IGreen Lanterni