

We caught a glimpse of Colleen Wing in action in the latest trailer for Iron Fist, but this first clip from the Marvel and Netflix series shows her kicking ass and taking names inside a steel cage! This footage was also shown during last year's New York Comic-Con, so chances are that the online streaming service has decided against showing anything beyond that to keep the story as secret as possible. The marketing campaign for Iron Fist really seems to be kicking off in a big way now, so more clips, stills, and posters are no doubt right around the corner ahead of the show's premiere next month. Colleen being portrayed as a force to be reckoned with should make fans of the comic books very happy, and it looks like she'll be every bit as formidable as Danny Rand. The two look set to embark on a romantic relationship too, and with the character also set to return in The Defenders, it

Read more: https://www.comicbookmovie.com/tv/marvel/iron_fist/get-better-acquainted-with-colleen-wing-with-this-violent-a148794