

There have been rumors floating around for quite some time that the 80's smash hit comedy Ghostbuster was returning for another run at the box office. Today via press release Sony has confirmed the film for a three day October release. The movie will be seen in approximately 500 theater on October 13th, 20th, and 27th. Press Release: Get ready for mass hysteria! This October, Sony Pictures Repertory celebrates the original movie Ghostbusters, its franchise, and its fans by bringing the quintessential modern classic back to theatres for a special limited engagement of one showtime one night a week. Starting on Thursday, October 13, 2011 and continuing every following Thursday in October 2011, fans together will be able to see their favorite paranormal psychologists back on the big screen as they save the world from ghosts, ghouls, and Mr. Stay Puft. Ghostbusters will show in approximately 500 theatres across the US on

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/JakeLester/news/?a=46867&t=iGhostbustersi_Officially_Hitting_Theaters_Again_This_October