

With G.I. Joe Retaliation being pushed back for 3D conversion anticipation for the film continues to rise. Hasbro sent Logan Lubera to New Orleans to attend G.I. Joe Con. Lubera helped out on the film and moderated a panel at the con for it. Although they did not address the films pushed back release date a number of other topics were touched on including Luber's favorite scene, Terry Crews being up for the role of Roadblock, and Bruce Willis. Check out the bullets from the Con's panel courtesy of GeneralJoes on twitter. -Their main goal was to make GI Joe more realistic. Focus on toy-centric vehicles and weapons. -Logan Lubera designed the Battle Kata weapons system used in the film and toy line. -Each character has their own unique weapons. Cobra and Joes do not share weapon companies or types. -Jinx mountain combat uniform is based on Bruce Lee in Enter the Dragon. -Dwayne Johnson is

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/JakeLester/news/?a=62709>