

Dwayne "The Rock" Johnson has been a busy man when it comes to G.I. Joe: Retaliation. Even though they are hard at work filming, he somehow finds time to do a little tweeting on the side about the film. Here are a few images and a video tweeted by Dwayne "The Rock" Johnson concerning filming from the new movie. If only you could see what I see... Just got the most bad ass direction ever from a director: "Just kill". Roadblock w/ online writers - some of the baddest motherf*ckers on the internet. #NoNoobsHere BH Entertainment is reporting that filming is about 70% completed now. The site also says that Lee Byung Hun (Storm Shadow) has really enjoyed filming this time around. Lee Byung Hun's agency BH Entertainment stated on October 25 that the filming in New Orleans is 70% finished and the production is expecting to fully wrap up in November. He has

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/johnarturo/news/?a=48955&t=G.I. Joe Retaliation Updates>