

Here is an excerpt from Deadline's latest box office report. If you're interested in reading the whole thing, head on over there by clicking the link below. Green Lantern 3D (Warner Bros) Week 2 [3,816 Theaters] Friday $6M (-72%), Estimated Weekend $19.4M (-63%), Estimated Cume $91M This is pretty poor, especially when compared to the other recently released comic book movies like THOR and X-Men: First Class. The former took $9.1 million on its second Friday, while the latter raked in $7.7 million. While these changes may not appear to be that significant (neither were that far off Green Lantern is the percentage they dropped) the fact that the latest movie from Warner Bros. and DC Entertainment is rumored to have had a budget of $300 million, makes it far from the success that was originally predicted. When you factor in what Green Lantern has made around the rest of the world, it would

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/joshw24/news/?a=40324&t=iGreen_Lantern_Box_Office_Takings_Drop_72_In_The_Space_Of_Just_One_Week