

Martin Campbell-directed comic book adaptation Green Lantern starring Ryan Reynolds was not a huge box office hit in theatres, making $219 million, with a reported budget of $200M. On October 14, film was released on DVD and Blu-Ray and took the #2 spot on Blu-Ray chart, behind Walt Disney Studios' The Lion King. Now, according to The Numbers, Green Lantern made $4.7 million on DVD, during its three days of release, from Oct. 14 to Oct. 16. There you go...Remember, this is just for the DVD. The only film we can compare Green Lantern is X-Men: First Class, because both had 3 days until the official DVD numbers were online. X-Men: First Class made around $9M last month. Blu-Ray numbers should be revealed soon and usually the numbers are bigger. So, stay tuned...
