

Originally launching in November, Cartoon Network's successful Green Lantern: The Animated Series is currently in the middle of its first season. Now, Warner Home Video has announced that a DVD release titled Green Lantern: The Animated Series - Season 1, Part 1: Rise of the Red Lanterns (quite a mouthful, eh?) This 2-DVD set, which will be released August 28th, will contain 13 episodes: "Beware My Power...Green Lantern's Light Part 1," "Beware My Power...Green Lantern's Light Part 2," "Razer's Edge," "Ghost in the Machine," "Heir Apparent," "Lost Planet," "Reckoning," "Nothing to Fear," "...In Love and War," "Regime Change," "Flight Club," "Invasion" and "Homecoming." Additionally, a digital comic will be included. No other details have been announced yet (except for a $19.97 price), but below is the cover art: Do you plan on purchasing Green Lantern: The Animated Series - Season 1, Part 1: Rise of the Red Lanterns when it releases? Follow

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/BatFreak/news/?a=59300>