

We had heard reports that Marvel were going to start looking to some lesser known characters after the Avengers and eventually "go cosmic". Well it seems that may be happening sooner rather than later. Twitch seem to have a good line on what's going down at Marvel having already reported on plans to move forward with Dr Strange. Now according to them.. ..Sources tell Twitch the film version is now in active development. Expect the on-screen Marvel universe to get a bit bigger soon. The comic team have had two incarnations, the originals the '60s and then a relaunch in 2008. The new team featured characters such as Adam Warlock, Nova and Starhawk and they regularly battled the likes of The Skrulls and Thanos. If these villains are a part of The Avengers as is rumored, it would be a great way to tie the movies together. Kevin Feige already brought up the

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/rorschachsrants/news/?a=43652&t=iGuardians_Of_The_Galaxyi_In_Active_Development_At_Marvel