

As we at CBM always caution, reshoots/additional photography occurs on nearly every big budget blockbuster film. There's virtually no reason to panic or assume test audiences or some studio exec saw an early rough cut of the film and didn't like what they saw. Thankfully, Karen Gillan has provided everyone with an opportunity to exercise restraint as the Doctor Who alumni has revealed that Guardians of the Galaxy reshoots are currently underway. Her twitter account also reveals that Mantis actress Pom Klementieff is also on the set. Are the reshoots for scenes only featuring those two or is the entire Guardians team also on location? These are the type of questions you SHOULD be speculating upon. Guardians of the Galaxy reshoots today!

So excited to be back with the gang! #easiestreshootsever

Me and @PomKlementieff have the coolest shoes thanks to Michael Rooker.
