

Guillermo Del Toro, the master of the creepy and cool was announced to helm an Incredible Hulk television series for ABC in October 2010. Since then all has been relatively quiet. See what the Hellboy director had to say in a recent interview with Fear.net: How will Pacific Rim differ from other giant monster movies? It's not a Godzilla film. I don't think any of [the giant monster films] have been done quite like this one. And the plot is very special. I'm under the mother of all non-disclosure agreements, so I can't reveal much. But it's a very particular film. I love it. Is Hulk still happening? Yeah, yeah, yeah. We turned in the outline to ABC about four weeks ago. And then we did a rewrite for ABC on the outline, and now we are lining up the pages. Is it safe to assume this will be a different Hulk than we've

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/GraphicCity/news/?a=40507&t=Guillermo_Del_Toro_Briefly_Updates_iThe_Incredible_Hulki_TV_Show_iPacific_Rimi