

Source: io9 Speaking to io9, Del Toro fielded questions about the current status of Pacific Rim and the Hulk television show. Following up on discussions about del Toro's novel and graphic novel, The Strain, io9 asks him to elaborate on putting his personal spin on the monster movie genre with Frankenstein and Pacific Rim: Del Toro: The reality is that it comes not from a goal, but from the fact that I'm fulfilling my bucket list as a kid. Del Toro goes on to open up more about how Pacific Rim is progressing: Del Toro: Very good, we're at the end of our second week. We are shooting everything for the main complex in the movie, which is a huge complex in Hong Kong where the robots are maintained. We are doing that, while building downtown Hong Kong streets. Del Toro then shifted focus onto the upcoming Incredible Hulk TV show for ABC and it's progress: Del

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/GraphicCity/news/?a=50443&t=emGuillermo_Del_Toroem_Fields_Questions_About_emPacific_Rimem_And_emThe_Hulkem_Television_Show