

Just in case you weren't aware, May 4th is the day that the famous sci-fi classic is honored by fans across the globe. The choice of date stems from that most famous of lines from the saga, first spoken by Obi Wan Kenobi - "May the force be with you". I'm sure you don't need a diagram to figure out the pun. To help you Star Wars nuts celebrate here is a collection of rare behind the scenes pics, cosplayers and artwork.. If any of you guys are up to anything Star Wars related over the weekend let us know about it in the comments section. I myself am heading to the Star Wars: Invasion Dublin event on Sunday for a day or unparalleled geekery.
