

Well, this is interesting! Dwayne Johnson has potentially revealed his involvement with an upcoming DC Comics adaptation. After a fan suggested that he would be a good choice to play Gravedigger or John Stewart, he took the time to reply with the cryptic tease you see below. The wrestler turned actor recently told CBM that he is still very interested in playing Black Adam (you can find that interview HERE) so whether or not this relates to that or something else (Lobo perhaps?!) is unknown at this point. Funny U say that.. RT: @krystal_burt: @ron2smoove I could see Rock playing in DC movies. Gravedigger or John Stewart (JL's Green Lantern)—Dwayne Johnson (@TheRock) May 17, 2012 Unless he's just having a bit of fun with his followers, this should come as very good news for comic book fans. Which DC character would you like to see "The Rock" portray on the big
