

It's been quite a while since my last Editorial/Review as many other things have firmly secured themselves between being the regular contributor I was and simply checking in when I get a free moment. However, anyone familiar with anything I have had to say over the years, probably remembers one simple truth....I am one of the most outspoken Avengers fans on this site. I can honestly say that I have been reading The Avengers longer than most of you have been alive. So, I felt compelled to wake up early this morning and let the CBM world know how I felt about seeing The Avengers film, after waiting 35 years to see these heroes on screen..... "Like a kid again" From beginning to end, this film not only didn't disappoint, but surpassed all expectations. The scope of the film was amazing. This movie never bothered to "ground itself" in reality, largely due to
