

We keep seeing so many new behind the scenes photos from both Batman v Superman: Dawn of Justice and Suicide Squad that it's hard not to wonder why Warner Bros. hasn't collected them in some sort of book rather than letting the cast share them on Instagram! Regardless, the latest focuses on the Man of Steel, and it actually looks like the muscular Man of Steel is about to burst out of his suit! "Remembering a time while shooting BvS and they told me I wasn't allowed my usual Salted Caramel Mochaccino with skinny coconut milk and whip," the British actor jokes about the scene below. Of course, we know that he's actually running into action against Ben Affleck's Batman here, and if you're wondering where the hero's cape is, it was often added with CG in post-production for action sequences like this. Does this photo make you more excited for Cavill's return as Superman in Justice League? As always, let us know
