

Plot Synopsis - "It has been several years since making a deal with the Devil and Johnny Blaze (Nicolas Cage), living in self-imposed isolation, finds himself as the only person who can help save 10-year-old Danny – and ultimately the world – thanks to his unwanted and uncontrollable power – his ability to transform into the hell-on-wheels monster known as The Ghost Rider"

The talk at San Diego's Comic-Con was that the new Ghost Rider film will be darker and scarier. Just the look of Ghost Rider with a charred skull is a sign they weren't kidding around. That is a pretty sweet look, and very unexpected. I went from having zero interest in this project, to making it one of my most anticipated films. A must see for sure.
