

I actually quite liked X-Men: Apocalypse, but it seems to be right up there with Batman v Superman and Suicide Squad as one of the year's most divisive releases. Regardless of your feelings on the movie, there's no denying that the Honest Trailer below is pretty damn funny. If anything, it feels like they're pulling their punches a little, but the Screen Junkies team certainly don't go easy on the movie. 10 Frustrating Questions You'll Be Left Asking After Watching X-MEN: APOCALYPSE Everything from the ridiculous timeline issues to Apocalypse's appearance and plan are taken aim at, though it's what the video has to say about Deadpool which may be the highlight, especially as it feels like it may have a ring of truth to it after X-Men: Apocalypse's disappointing box office performance. Anyway, check out the trailer below and then be sure to let us know what you thought of the movie.

Read more: https://www.comicbookmovie.com/x-men/x-men_apocalypse/hilarious-honest-trailer-for-x-men-apocalypse-says-a145910