

The CW's The Flash is one of DC's best television series out right now, but that doesn't stop it from subjecting you to the constant soap opera clichés and recycled plot structure for every episode. From love triangles to Barry's constant complaining to Cisco's pop culture references, endless speedsters, and more, Screen Junkies has decided to shine a light on everything you love or hate from The Flash in their latest "Honest Trailer." They address pretty much everything in this latest trailer, even the fact that Barry has a bobble head, which you can't really forget about it after watching it. If you love The Flash and feel like having a good laugh, then this video is for you. Check out the trailer below and let us know what you think in the usual place. The Flash season 3 premieres Tonight at 8/7c on The CW. Barry is living his dream life – his parents are alive, he's asked Iris West on a date and he can finally be a normal guy as Central City
