

Runner- These are the newly turned. They haven't lost any muscle yet so they're fast, not as fast as an Olympic athlete, but they can run you down because they don't feel the pain of pushing themselves. Walker- These are the ones who have been turned for quite some time. It usually takes a few hours for their bodies to become stiff and start losing muscle so they can only walk/ stumble like the typical zombie in the movies. Crawler- These are zombies that have lost the use of 1 or both of their legs or even had their entire lower half removed ie. being ripped apart. Burner- This is a zombie that has been lit of fire that will eventually become non-threatening due to their brains and brain stem being burned to the point that it can no longer survive. Pet- a pet is a walker that has had it's
