

Talking to The Playlist while promoting his latest movie, Real Steel Hugh Jackman has let slip a ton of details on The Wolverine and much more. To read the interview in full (where you'll be able to hear more from the actor on why he has stuck with the character all these years) be sure to click on the link below to head on over to the site. On The Current Status Of The Wolverine: "If it wasn't for 'Les Mis,' we're ready now. Now that Jim [Mangold]'s on board, we're ready to go. For 'Les Mis' to work, we would have had to start "Wolverine," basically, yesterday. So when we needed to press the button, we weren't quite ready. So it will happen straight after." On Why Darren Aronofsky Dropped Out Of The Wolverine: "His personal life precluded him from making the movie. I asked him to do 'X-Men 3,' I asked him to

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/joshw24/news/?a=47122&t=Hugh_Jackman_Talks_iX-Men_4_iThe_Wolverine_iAnd_The_Possibility_Of_Starring_In_iFirst_Class_Sequel