

The last time we've seen The Hulk & Iron Man's Hulkbuster battle it out was last summer in Joss Whedon's Avengers: Age of Ultron. Now, over a year later, these two goliath's collide once more in an awesome fan film by Youtuber/Animator Anthony Mcgrath! The effects doesn't touch the work of Industrial Light & Magic but it damn near comes close to it! The fight kicks off right at the beginning of the video where Stark is sent in by General Ross to stop The Hulk (who is seemingly on a rampage at the time). After the first attempt to stop the Green Machine fails, the two clash in an epic climactic battle which is sure to please all fans watching around the world! Be sure to watch through the credits to see how the fight ends & see a cool after credits scene which might leave a "scar" or two on The Hulk in the future! Check out Iron Man: Gamma
