

Best known for his role as The Incredible Hulk in T.V's The Incredible Hulk, the man we all know and love, former body builder turned actor Lou Ferrigno celebrates his 60th birthday today! Born in 1951, Big Louie grew up in Brooklyn New York. He was once a body builder, winning multiple awards, before becoming an actor. His big break came in the form of the hit show The Incredible Hulk, starring alongside Bill Bixby. He appeared in film "Hercules", as the title character in the 80's. He also appeared in comedy "I love you, man". He also voiced the not so jolly green giant in both of The Hulk movies, and is currently doing voice work on the next Marvel blockbuster, The Avengers. Happy birthday Lou!

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/IRONNICK/news/?a=49627&t=Incridible_Hulk_Actor_Turns_60