

The hunter will become the hunted according to the latest Kong: Skull Island promo video. It seems the mysterious Monarch has records on Tom Hiddleston's Captain James Conrad. According to the short vid, Hiddleston is playing a former British Special Air Service who served with Australia's Special Forces during Vietnam and now operates as a hunter/tracker. However, it appears that when Monarch sets him up to track down Kong (or whatever they're looking for on the uncharted Pacific island), the hunter will become the hunted. "All Hail The King"; this March, when Kong: Skull Island is released in North American theaters on the 10th. ABOUT KONG: SKULL ISLAND Kong: Skull Island is an upcoming American monster film directed by Jordan Vogt-Roberts and written by Dan Gilroy and Max Borenstein. The film originally started out as a collaboration between Legendary Pictures and their new distributor, Universal Pictures. However, Universal allowed Legendary to move the film to Warner Bros. in order to set up a crossover
