

At first we were certain that this was a fan made effort, but it has yet to be debunked and is being picked up by more and more sites who seem to think it might just be the real deal. It first appeared over at Cine 1, who definitely get their hands on their fair share of legit posters. They are calling it the provisional poster for the movie.. Who knows, either way it's pretty terrible. But if your basis for thinking it's fake stems from the lack of originality shown, just check out that poster we got for the new Die Hard movie a few days back. This is what we're up against thees days! Anyway, I'm sure we'll find out soon enough one way or the other.

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/rorschachsrrants/news/?a=62022>