

Chatting recently with SHH, Isaiah Mustafa, the actor branded as the "Old Spice Guy", reiterated his interest in taking lead in Marvel Studios' tentative Luke Cage movie, meeting with the studio, as well why hes keen on the 'Power Man' in particular. Are you trying to get meetings with Marvel? "I've already had a meeting with Marvel. I talked to them and I told them that I was a gracious reader of their comics and that I wanted to be Luke Cage. So we'll see where they take it." We see it, but why Luke Cage? There are a handful of heroes over there that you might be also right for, but why him in particular? "When you say "handful" you're not joking around, but it's because what's going on with him right now in the Marvel Universe. I think all their [early black] characters were these Blacksploitation characters – these jokey, clownish
