

Video game movies don't exactly have the best track record, but 20th Century Fox is surely hoping to buck the trend with their film adaptation of the popular video game series Assassin's Creed, and it's starting to look like they just may pull it off. The film stars some heavy-duty talent, with 2x Academy Award-nominee Michael Fassbender leading the way as the assassin Aguilar. He's joined by Academy Award-winner Marion Cotillard, Academy Award-winner Jeremy Irons, and Primetime Emmy-nominee Michael K. Williams, amongst others. Check out an action-packed new TV spot below: Through a revolutionary technology that unlocks his genetic memories, Callum Lynch (Michael Fassbender) experiences the adventures of his ancestor, Aguilar, in 15th Century Spain. Callum discovers he is descended from a mysterious secret society, the Assassins, and amasses incredible knowledge and skills to take on the oppressive and powerful Templar organization in the present day. Assassin's Creed features: Director: Justin Kurzel Michael Fassbender as Callum Lynch/Aguilar de Nerha Marion Cotillard as Sophia Rikkin Jeremy Irons as Alan Rikkin Brendan Gleeson
