

Get ready for a double dose of DC TV on Tuesday nights when your favorite shows return in 2017 from their winter hiatuses as DC's Legends of Tomorrow will be making the move to Tuesday to join the Scarlet Speedster starting January 24th. Legends will air at the 9 p.m. ET timeslot after The Flash until its season two finale on March 28th. The Rose Mclver-led horror drama iZombie will return the following week on Tuesday, April 4 with an epic two-hour season premiere, which will kick off at 8 p.m. ET and the show will then move to 9 p.m. ET for the rest of its junior season. The CW also set the series finale date for its long-running hit drama, The Vampire Diaries, which will bid farewell to fans on March 10. The network's upcoming Archie Comics teen drama Riverdale will premiere on Thursday, January 26 at 9 p.m. ET, which will push their other long-running horror drama Supernatural to the 8 p.m. ET slot on

Read more: <https://www.comicbookmovie.com/horror/izombie-season-3-gets-premiere-date-vampire-diaries-sets-series-finale-a146845>