

Disney's Pirates of the Caribbean franchise will be returning to theatres this May with its fifth installment, Dead Men Tell No Tales, and a new synopsis for the film has offered a better look at the film's story. The summary reveals that we'll find a down-on-his-luck Captain Jack Sparrow (Johnny Depp) aboard a pathetically small ship, The Dying Gull. Sparrow is being hunted by Captain Salazar (Javier Bardem) and his crew of ghost sailors, who are on a mission to eliminate every pirate who sails the seas. Sparrow will need to find the Trident of Poseidon if he hopes to survive. Strangely, the synopsis makes no mention of Orlando Bloom's Will Turner, who will be making a return to the story after his absence in the fourth film. Check out the full synopsis below and let us know what you think! Johnny Depp returns to the big screen as the iconic, swashbuckling anti-hero Jack Sparrow in the all-new "Pirates of the Caribbean: Dead Men Tell

Read more: <https://www.comicbookmovie.com/fantasy/jack-sparrow-is-running-out-of-luck-in-a-new-synopsis-for-pirates-of-the-a147943>