

--> Comic Book History Who is JACQUES DERNIER? Jacques Dernier, nicknamed by his comrades as Frenchie, and as his nickname denotes is a Frenchman resistance freedom fighter during Marvel Comics World War II. Jacques Dernier was created by Stan Lee and Dick Ayers, who made his first appearance in Sgt. Fury and his Howling Commandos #21 (August 1965) but was not named until Sgt. Fury and his Howling Commandos #40 (March 1967). First Appearance Jacques Dernier the French resistance fighter had several run-ins with Sergeant Fury's Howling Commandos and occasionally worked with them throughout the Second World War. Fury and his squad freed him from Nazi capture. Jacques "Frenchie" Dernier Comicbook Appearances. Sgt. Fury and the Howling Commandos #40 Sgt. Fury and the Howling Commandos #55 Sgt. Fury and the Howling Commandos #56 Sgt. Fury and the Howling Commandos #78 Dernier is a high-ranking leader in the French underground. He played a critical role in the D-Day operations that

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/pollmaster/news/?a=43887&t=JACQUES_DERNIER_Frenchie_Howling_Commando_bio