

Talking to Hero Complex, the Scottish actor has elaborated on the potential of X-Men: First Class sequels as well as how they might effect the relationship between Professor X and Magneto. Below are a few excerpts, but you can read more by clicking on the link below. On Making Charles Xavier Bald In A Future X-Men Movie: "It would be nice to explore things in two more films. In this one, Magneto has gone through his major metamorphosis; he kind of found himself. Charles is dealing with his new life and [issues that present themselves] in this movie. And we still are left with the big question: How does he lose his hair? In the comic books there's a very clear and easy answer, but we didn't go with that. In the comics it happened when he was very young and when his powers activated. We've obviously gone away from that. Now, obviously,

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/joshw24/news/?a=38610&t=James_McAvoy_Talks_In_Detail_About_Potential_iX-Men_First_Classi_Sequels