

Film composer James Newton Howard (who has previously scored Green Lantern, I Am Legend and worked with Hans Zimmer on Christopher Nolan's first two Batman films) has signed on to provide the scores for two more upcoming films. First up, according to Film Music Reporter, the composer is set to score Disney's upcoming fantasy movie Maleficent, which stars Angelina Jolie as the titular witch. The film also stars Elle Fanning, Sharlto Copley, Juno Temple, Sam Riley, Miranda Richardson and Imelda Staunton. Described as the untold story of Maleficent, the movie reveals the events that hardened her heart and drove her to curse the baby Aurora. Maleficent, which marks the directorial debut of production designer Robert Stromberg (Alice In Wonderland) is set to hit theaters March 14th, 2014. Additionally, Howard has confirmed in an interview with Film Music Site that he's attached to score Lionsgate's upcoming sequel The Hunger Games:
