

As casting picks up steam on WB/Legendary Pictures' 300 follow up (not a prequel, not a sequel..a sidequel?), the newest addition is 21 year old Jamie Blackley who has a small role in Snow White And The Huntsman, and just wrapped on the strangely titled uwantme2killhim? in which he played the lead. According to Deadline.. Blackley will play Calisto, a teen whose desire to become the heroic man/soldier his father was leads the 16 year old to become a leader of a small band of soldiers. He joins Sullivan Stapleton as main character Themistocles, and Eva Green as Artemisia.
