

"I'll be possessed while I destroy my victims. So basically, it's a perfect job." Jane Levy, 22, has been quickly moving up the Hollywood food chain with starring roles in ABC's Suburgatory and a starring role in Evil Dead remake. A role that was originally planned for Mirror, Mirror's Lily Collins, but she had to drop out. Jane will be playing, Mia, which has been described as the female version of "Ash." Jane tells marinij.com that landing her Evil Dead role was a dream come true. "For a while, whenever I was asked what my dream role would be, my answer was always to play a killer or a psychopath. I get to do that in this movie, although I'll be possessed while I destroy my victims. So basically, it's a perfect job." When asked to elaborate on what intrigued her about the Evil Dead remake, she responded: I really wanted to work on "Evil Dead"
