

While promoting his latest film, Super 8, JJ Abrams was asked by Cinemablend about when he starts working on next project. Although rumored to be involved in multiple projects, Abrams said he starts work on Star Trek next. Said Abrams: "The next thing we're working on, and hopefully we'll be able to pass information out sooner or later, is the next Star Trek." It has also been reported that the release date for the film could be pushed back Abrams also addressed those rumors. "I care much more that it be good than it be ready. I'm, obviously doing everything I can to make sure that schedules don't get screwed up. But I don't think anyone wants a movie on time that's not worth your time. We want to make sure it's done right. The guys I've been working with are obviously brilliant so I'm really excited to get back into it. So this is
