

Deadline is reporting that Joe Mazzello - best known for his roles in The Social Network and the first two Jurassic Park films - has signed on to play a new character in next year's G.I. Joe sequel, reportedly titled Cobra Strikes (despite some reports saying that it's now titled Retaliation). Not much is known about the character (who's known as 'Mouse'), except for the fact that apparently, many actors have been interested in the role. Deadline has the following... Joe Mazzello has been set to play the role of Mouse in G.I. Joe 2: Cobra Strikes, a role a lot of young guys wanted in the Jon M. Chu-directed Paramount film. Do you think Mazzello is a good choice for the role? Sound off your thoughts below in the usual place. Starring Channing Tatum, Dwayne Johnson, Ray Park and Ray Stevenson, G.I. Joe 2 hits theaters August 10th, 2012!
