

Torchwood actor John Barrowman has joined Arrow. Barrowman will board the network's adaptation of the DC Comics series as a "well-dressed man" who is "as mysterious as he is wealthy ... he is an acquaintance of the Queen family and a prominent figure in Starling City." Barrow is no stranger to the genre, having auditioned for Superman in Superman Returns and voicing a desire to portray Captain America at SDCC '09. Barrowman has a quasi-cult following from the BBC sci-fi drama, Torchwood. If I had to make an educated guess, I'd say he's portraying a DC hero but producers are playing their cards close to the chest. RELATED CONTENT: Official Series Description For CW's ARROW ARROW: First Clear Look At The Costume And First Footage Revealed Deadshot Joins Deathstroke And China White As Villains On CW's ARROW Running Time: 60 min Release Date: October 10, 2012 MPAA Rating: Unknown Starring: Katie Cassidy, Stephen Amell and Willa

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/GraphicCity/news/?a=65766>