

During a brief interview for his new show Person Of Interest, HeroComplexThe Dark Knight & The Dark Knight Rises. Find out what Nolan had to say about his brother's Batman universe finally coming to an end. On what to expect from "The Dark Knight Rises": "There's a little team of Warner Bros. ninjas that follow me around. If I open my mouth, they'll be like, "Quiet!" and pop! A little poison dart." On the franchise finally coming to an end: "It's bittersweet. It's been the last nine years of my life. It's very exciting, and we're happy to be finishing the story, but I'm going to miss that character. I'm very excited to have been building this kind of universe that we're all putting together in New York. I think it's very distinct from the Batman franchise, but it has a couple of elements in common, so I'm excited to be able to continue telling

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/CoastToCoastStation/news/?a=49190&t=Jonathan_Nolan_Shares_His_Thoughts_On_iThe_Dark_Knight_Risesi