

Talking to Tribute about his upcoming movie, 50/50, Joseph Gordon-Levitt has also spoken out briefly about his role as the mysterious John Blake in the third and possibly final Batman movie from director Christopher Nolan, The Dark Knight Rises. While there's nothing too revealing here, he does comment briefly on working with the movies impressive cast and refuses to give away anything about the character he'll be playing. Be sure to click on the link below to head on over to the site where you can read the interview in full. You've done some small films like this; little gems but you're also getting into movies like Inception and I know you're filming The Dark Knight Rises. What do you like better? Well, for me it isn't so much about the size of the movie. I just want to work on stuff where I feel creatively inspired whether that's like a movie like
